

The background of the cover is a photograph of a volleyball team. The players are wearing white long-sleeved jerseys with black and yellow accents, and black shorts. They are standing in a line, facing right, and holding white volleyball. The number '3' is visible on the backs of several players. The text 'IOWA' is in large, bold, yellow letters with a black outline, and 'VOLLEYBALL' is in smaller, bold, white letters with a black outline. Below the team name, the text '2012 MEDIA GUIDE' is written in yellow. The overall design is dynamic and sports-oriented.

IOWA VOLLEYBALL

Hello! And welcome to the University of Iowa volleyball media guide!

When searching the country for the right school for you, I hope you find the information inside this media guide helpful and insightful. As a former student-athlete, I understand the importance of finding a school and a volleyball program that is the right fit for you. Your academic and athletic career deserves careful consideration, and I can guarantee both will receive thoughtful attention as you consider the University of Iowa.

Iowa is an outstanding university with a worldwide reputation of academic excellence. A member of one of the finest academic and athletic conferences in the country, the University of Iowa features faculty and staff members who are committed to making your experience as a student-athlete a positive one. And you'll be able to do so in one of the greatest college communities the country has to offer. Iowa City is a classic college town that mixes the strength of a university with a small town environment that you'll be proud to call home.

The volleyball program at the University of Iowa continues to take steps towards the NCAA postseason while competing in the strongest volleyball conference in the country. Combined with an enthusiastic and experienced coaching staff, the volleyball team is built with student-athletes that value teamwork, dedication and commitment. The program is complete with a support staff that genuinely invests in the success of Iowa's student-athletes.

We're also fortunate to play our home games in the conference's largest volleyball facility -- Carver-Hawkeye Arena -- where we've set season attendance records in two of the last four years.

It is our hope that you will continue to consider The University of Iowa as a place for your future. Our program offers incredible academic opportunities combined with a Big Ten athletic experience that is unparalleled. The University of Iowa and the Iowa City community will provide all the necessary ingredients to make your academic and athletic experiences as rewarding as possible.

We hope you will share in the excitement about The University of Iowa and our program.

CARVER-HAWKEYE ARENA

The University of Iowa opened its award-winning Carver-Hawkeye Arena in January 1983. The 15,500-seat, oval-shaped arena is one of the finest multi-purpose facilities in the world and one of the 25 largest university-owned arenas in America.

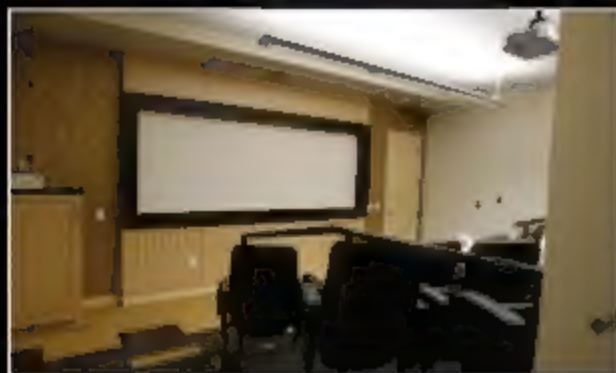

Twenty-eight years after it first opened, Carver-Hawkeye Arena was the beneficiary of a $47 million revitalization project. The renovation and addition included a multi-court practice complex, state of the art 12,000-square foot strength and conditioning center, and new locker rooms for the Iowa volleyball program.

The renovation also included a drop-down curtain in the arena bowl designed to create an intimate atmosphere during Iowa volleyball matches. The capacity with the curtains dropped is 8,715 – larger than any volleyball facility in the Big Ten.

The extensive renovation complemented the new scoreboard and video walls installed inside the arena prior to the 2006 season. The state of the art equipment features two video walls with live action and instant replay capabilities. The scoreboards at each end of the court are 48 feet in length and feature a 256 x 72 Led Matrix display area, along with the usual scoreboard display areas for scores, time remaining and team and individual statistics.

LOUNGE AREA

The University of Iowa Strength and Conditioning Department is committed to providing the ultimate training experience for each Hawkeye student-athlete. Our focus is the development of the complete student-athlete through the use of proven scientific methods for reducing the risk of injury, as well as maximizing each student-athletes' athletic potential. Equally as important, our staff will foster a culture of relationship building in which we will seek to enhance the intangible character traits required for each Hawkeye to reach his or her championship potential on and off the playing stage.

We have four Goals in our Strength and Conditioning Program:

1) INCREASE ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

- Improve your game with better speed and explosive power

2) DECREASE RATE OF INJURY

- Significantly reduce your risk of joint and tendon injuries.
- Build the right strength and flexibility in the upper body to create not only better arm strength but healthier arms and shoulders.

3) INCREASE SELF CONFIDENCE

- There is a certain confidence in knowing you have prepared yourself and given yourself a chance to be successful.

4) IMPROVE MENTAL TOUGHNESS

- We will not be distracted and will develop the ability to focus on the task at hand and not be deterred by every day highs and lows

The work put in by the University of Iowa volleyball team during the spring and summer has the Hawkeyes in a good place heading into the 2012 season. That's music to fifth-year head coach Sharon Dingman's ears.

"Our players did everything they were supposed to over the summer," said Dingman.

Dingman returns 10 letterwinners and four starters from the 2011 season, including an experienced junior class that has been elevated into a leadership position this season. Defensive specialist Allison Straumann is the Hawkeyes' lone senior.

"Our upperclassmen look like upperclassmen now," said Dingman. "The most exciting part is our junior class. They've figured out they're juniors and have a sense of urgency about them. Their performance has been consistent, which one might expect from upperclassmen."

"Alli (Straumann) is doing a great job. She's everything you need from a senior class, as she is the senior class. It's been fun watching her lead this team because we do have a lot of new faces."

Dingman will be coaching a young group in 2012. In addition to only having one senior, 11 of the 17 student-athletes on the roster are either freshmen or sophomores. Iowa also welcomes six newcomers to the 2012 squad.

Despite the youth, Dingman believes the team returns depth and experience.

"We are young, obviously, we only have one senior," said Dingman. "There is a really good combination though. That sophomore class is huge and they all got a fair amount of playing experience. They are ready. If they are not starters, they are ready to step in and do whatever their roll is going to call for. I like our depth a lot. A lot of it is our returners. They worked really hard to put themselves in a position to succeed."

"I feel like as young as we are, when you look at us chronologically, we only have one senior, but we do have some depth and experience coming back. That is pretty exciting."

Dingman says Iowa's six newcomers — freshmen Erin Radke, Anne Yanda, Kathleen Dailey and Julianne Blomberg, and sophomore transfers Alessandra Dietz and Katie Kelley — will play a large role this season.

"Alessandra and Katie transferred, but they have experience playing at a high level in college already," said Dingman. "Anne has not played college yet, but she played at a pretty high level with her club team."

"Anne has been a pleasant surprise. Her IQ and ability to get in there and start leading the team right away has allowed us to move forward pretty quickly. Erin has the ability to be a pretty big point scorer for us as time goes on and has an opportunity to have a huge impact in our blocking schemes."

"We'll expect a lot out of them. If we're running a 6-2 (offense) then Anne and Erin, a couple of freshmen, will both be on the floor."

Dingman, who has spent 22 years as a head coach, likes the dynamic of this team.

"This is a really good group," said Dingman. "They work hard and have a purpose about everything they are doing. That has been the case starting last spring. I think we will see that carry over."

The coaching staff returns in 2012. Dingman, assistant coach Jason Allen and director of operations Angie Boldt are back for their fifth seasons, and assistant coach Ben Boldt returns for his fourth. The consistency on the staff has allowed the program to cultivate a culture of great expectations and growth. And they've done so in a conference that adapts the same philosophy. The Big Ten has dominated the national tournament in recent history. Penn State has won four of the last five NCAA titles. Nebraska, Iowa's newest conference rival, claimed the championship prior to the Nittany Lions' run. Illinois finished as national runner-up last season. Nothing gets easier in the Big Ten, but the Hawkeyes are ready to work.

"Our entire staff, we have put in a lot of work leading up to this point, as we will continue to do," said Dingman. "We are starting to see some really good things fall into place."

NIKKI DAILEY

SETTERS

A mainstay returns at setter for the Hawkeyes in 2012 — Nikki Dailey. Dailey, a junior, started all 33 matches and played in all 123 sets in 2011. She paced Iowa with 1,152 assists a year ago and recorded 312 digs. Dailey's experience is obvious, and now Dingman is excited about the improvement the Franklin, Wis., native has made heading into 2012.

"She was our only setter last year," said Dingman. "So even with practice, the number of repetitions she got as the only setter was pretty remarkable. Obviously, last fall Nikki was pretty good as a sophomore setter in the Big Ten. I felt like in the spring season Nikki really had a breakthrough in every aspect, and that gets me super excited and makes me smile. She has taken everything to a new level."

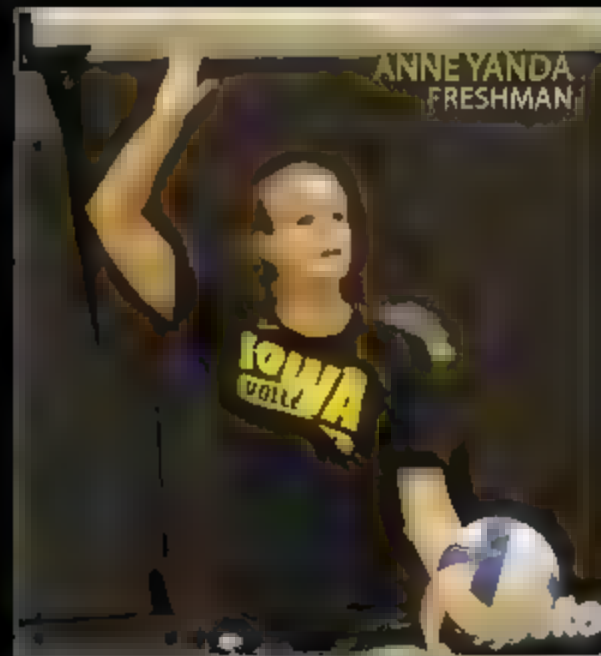

Dailey, who joins senior Ali Straumann and junior Bethany Yeager as team captains, will have help at the setter position this season.

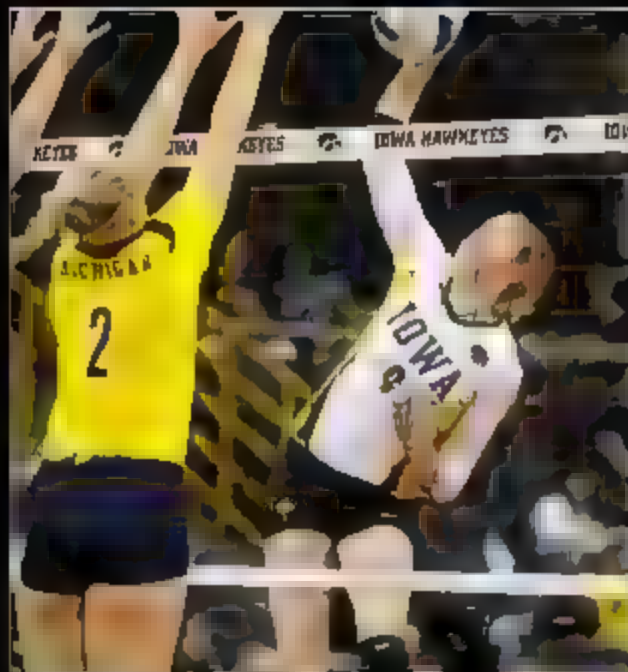

"Obviously, Nikki has a year under her belt now as our starting setter," said Dingman. "With Anne (Yanda) coming in, I think it is going to be a great dynamic, really good competition between those two. They will impact each other very positively. It is really nice for Nikki to have another setter. Anne is good, so she will add to our team right away. It is fun having some experience back in the setter position and bringing someone in like Anne."

Yanda, who hails from Holy Innocents' Episcopal School in Atlanta, was a three-time all-state honoree and team MVP. She led Holy Innocents to three Final Fours and one Elite Eight appearance at the Georgia state tournament. Yanda also placed in the top three at nationals while competing for the AS volleyball club.

"Anne is coming in with a lot of experience," said Dingman. "She has been on teams that have been in those championship moments. We are excited about her. She has a lot of high level experience. Again, it will be a really good dynamic for those two to have each other."

MIDDLE HITTERS

Iowa will post a big three in the middle: junior Chante' Thompson and sophomores Emily Yanny and Alessandra Dietz.

Yanny appeared in 26 matches and made 17 starts for Iowa in 2011. She ranked fifth on the team with 134 kills.

"There is some experience," said Dingman. "Certainly, Emily (Yanny) has been on the court a lot. She has been through two springs because she graduated early and came in. So she has had the opportunity to go through two spring seasons and an entire fall season. We are looking to her to really utilize her experience. Emily is going to start as a middle."

Dietz is one of two sophomore transfers, joining Katie Kelley, on the 2012 squad. The Bloomfield Hills, Mich., native played her freshman season at Loyola-Marymount.

"Alessandra is going to add a lot," said Dingman. "She is good on offense. What we envision from her is getting us kills in different ways. Last year, there were times when we really struggled to get kills out of our middles and we desperately need that. We are really excited about the offense we see Alessandra bringing to our team."

Thompson returns for her third year in the Iowa program after playing 41 matches during her first two seasons. Thompson appeared in 25 matches with 11 starts in 2011.

"Chante' has tremendous capability to help our program," said Dingman. "Again, for her, it is what decisions is she going to make every single day. She is very skilled and can really help us. We look forward to that for sure. We need Chante', she is one of our most disciplined blockers and adds a lot."

DEFENSIVE SPECIALISTS

Junior Bethany Yeager has served as Iowa's starting libero for each of her first two seasons on campus. Dingman has no reason to think that won't be the case in 2012. The Hawkeye head coach is also excited about the depth at this position.

Yeager played all but one set for the Hawkeyes in 2011. She has played 228-of-229 sets while wearing the Black and Gold.

"Bethany has been our starting libero for two years," said Dingman. "There is no reason to think that she is not going to be the starting libero. We love our depth in that position, even if it is not in a libero position."

Joining Yeager will be senior Alli Strawnman, junior Grace Burns and sophomores Karl Mueller and Katie Kelley. Kelley, an Iowa City native, transferred to Iowa after playing her freshman season at Maryland.

"Alli Strawnman is a senior," said Dingman. "Karl Mueller is such a good passer. Alli O'Dreen is a great passer. Grace is coming off an ACL, so we will see how she fits into the whole picture as she progresses in her rehab in her return to the court. We are so fortunate that Katie Kelley wanted to transfer back to Iowa. Katie Kelley is good. She is really a good volleyball player. We just love our depth in that position."

"Maybe Bethany is going to be our starting libero for the rest of her career here, but we love the fact that we have defensive specialists that can go in and give (Erin) Lappek a spell in the back row, or Rachael (Bodell) a spell, or (Erin) Radtke or whoever it is. That is the position that is really exciting because of the depth."

OUTSIDE HITTERS

It is nice to have options, and that is exactly what Iowa has on the outside. One thing is for sure though: Alex Lovell will start. The sophomore from Leonard, Mich., became Iowa's first freshman since 2005 to surpass 300 kills in a single season, recording 312 in 2011.

"Alex is going to start as an outside hitter for us," said Dingman. "I am not sure I always buy when coaches start training camps saying every position is wide open. I am not saying that. Alex is going to start."

"It will be fun for Alex, because I think teams are going to have to prepare for Alex more than they did last fall. It will be a good challenge for her. The hardest thing to do is be a good freshman and then see what happens your sophomore season. Now all the sudden teams are preparing for you and you are more of the game plan kid. That is what she is going to be."

"I think spring was tremendous for her. She learned a lot in the spring, and now she has gone through the rigors of a Big Ten season. She has a pretty good understanding now of how she has to take care of herself and prepare. As a freshman, it is eye opening." Joining Lovell will be junior Rachael Bedell and sophomore Erin Lappet.

Bedell played in 22 matches a year ago with five starts, after appearing in 29 matches with 22 starts as a freshman in 2010.

"Rachael is certainly in the mix, either left side or right side," said Dingman. "Rachael had a tough year last year. She started as a freshman and played a lot, and then didn't get to play a lot last year. I thought she handled it like a champion. She had a good spring. Rachael wants to be on the court. It wasn't fun for her last year at all. That was a really tough year. She is going to do everything she can to put herself in a position to get a lot of playing time. We need her. Rachael has some good experience."

Lappet trained as an outside hitter in the spring, which was a move the coaching staff is excited about.

"Erin trained almost strictly as a pin player, left side and right side, in the spring," said Dingman. "I think it was a great move for our team. I think it gives her an opportunity to get on the court a lot. We are excited. She and Erin Radtke have our highest jump reaches."

"Not only does Lappet jump well, but she plays very high too. She really utilizes her athletic ability to be a good volleyball player. I am so excited to see what Lappet can do this fall for us. It is tough when you are losing matches and you have your best athlete on the bench because they are just not ready to play volleyball yet. She worked so hard all spring, and from what I hear, all summer, to put herself in a position to help us because she has gotten to be a better volleyball player. I think Lappet could have a real impact on our team."

Radtke, a freshman, was named South Dakota Gatorade Player of the Year in 2011.

"The other pin player we would have would be Erin Radtke," said Dingman. "Erin is a phenomenal athlete. For Erin, she is going to be on the floor at times, because she is such a great athlete. It is going to be that same thing. We are going to look at our bench and go, 'wow, our best athlete is on the bench, let's get her in.' For Erin, it is going to be how patient can she be with us as she learns to play at this level. Her high school was really good, but it wasn't a level that says I am ready to be a Big Ten all-star. She won a state championship and she was the key to those state championships that she won, but this is a whole new level. I think for Erin, she is going to have to show some patience with herself, but she is going to have an impact because of her athleticism. She is a crazy good athlete. It is going to be a blast to watch her progress."

Redshirt freshman Alli O'Brien and freshman Julianne Blomberg will also see action on the outside.

"Julianne and Alli are pretty similar from what we have seen," said Dingman. "It will be a fun competition to see how they separate themselves, first from each other, and then what are they going to do that says to our coaching staff, we have to have them in the match. Obviously, Alli should have a little bit of an edge. She saw Big Ten volleyball. Alli is really driven and is really fun to coach. She is the kid coming in early and staying after to get reps."

"Julianne has been such a pleasant surprise for us. She is a walk-on. I think she is going to be right in there with the outsides. She is a really nice athlete and good volleyball player. We are really excited about her."

Blomberg was a three-time all-conference performer in high school. Another freshman, Kathleen Dailey, could see action on the outside as well.

"I think Kathleen will have a lot to say about where she plays," said Dingman. "We are going to give her opportunities to take swings. She will have the opportunity to earn playing time as a defensive specialist. I think she will have a lot to say about that in how she performs in each of her roles. We will make some decisions based on what our team needs are."

Dailey led St. Charles East High School in Illinois to conference championships in 2009 and 2011, and a third place finish at the 2011 state tournament.

SHARON DINGMAN HEAD COACH FIFTH SEASON

Sharon Dingman was named the eighth coach in the history of University of Iowa volleyball March 21, 2008. In four seasons at the helm of the volleyball program, she has imposed a winning attitude and established a volleyball culture that has Iowa fans excited about the immediate future.

In 2011, the Hawkeyes used their second of consecutive nationally recognized recruiting classes to continue building a program that will in time ascend up the Big Ten Standings. Four Hawkeye freshman combined to start 59 matches, and those four freshmen combined with four sophomores to total 62-percent of Iowa's starting lineup. The Hawkeyes youth flourished in the non-conference season, racing to a 10-3 record and a pair of tournament championships.

In 2010, Iowa's four freshmen combined for 67 starts. The Hawkeyes started their freshman quartet four times, more than any other Big Ten school. Iowa kicked off the season with consecutive tournament championships and made program history by starting the season 3-0 for the second consecutive year.

Iowa knocked off No. 16 Michigan in Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Nov. 12 to mark the third time in as many seasons Dingman and the Hawkeyes defeated a top 25 opponent.

In 2009, Dingman helped Iowa match the best start in program history by guiding the Hawkeyes to a 6-0 start. Iowa eventually became the first team in school history to start the season 7-0 on the road. The Hawkeyes captured five conference wins in 2009, raising Dingman's two-year Big Ten win total to 11, the highest two-year stretch for an Iowa volleyball team since 2000-01.

Iowa set season attendance records in each of Dingman's first two seasons as head coach, including averaging a school record 1,632 fans in 2009, the 23rd highest total in the country. Since 2008, the Hawkeyes have experienced nine of the school's top 10 all-time attendance figures, and 17 of the top 20. On November 11, 2009, the Hawkeyes eclipsed the 3,000 mark for the first time in program history when 3,102 fans saw Iowa host top-ranked Penn State. Four of Iowa's top 10 all-time attendance figures came in 2011, as fans continued to pack Molluscan Court at Carver-Hawkeye Arena in year three of the Dingman era.

Dingman led the Hawkeyes to their most successful campaign in recent memory in her first season at the helm. Iowa's 14 wins in 2008 were tied for the most since 2000, and its six conference victories are the most since 2000. Dingman guided the Hawkeyes to a ninth place finish in the competitive Big Ten Conference, which was the highest finish for a Hawkeye squad since 2000.

Bingman and the Hawkeyes set or snapped many streaks in a successful first season. Iowa won seven-straight matches, tying the fourth-longest winning streak in school history. The Hawkeyes also swept every opponent during the winning streak and won 15-straight sets. That was the longest set-winning streak since 1990. Iowa opened the conference season with wins over Ill. 10 Wisconsin and Northwestern, marking only the fifth time in school history that a Hawkeye team started 2-0 in Big Ten play. The Hawkeyes also had a winning record inside Carver-Hawkeye Arena for the first time since 1996.

The Hawkeyes also snapped conference losing streaks in Bingman's first season. Iowa defeated Ohio State for the first time in 39 tries, dating back to 1981. That win also broke an 18-match losing skid on the road in Big Ten play. Iowa's upset win over Ill. 10 Wisconsin snapped a 26-match losing streak against the Badgers, which went back to 1994.

Bingman set a personal milestone at Northwestern Nov. 14 when she recorded her 350th career win in Iowa's five-set victory. Her career record stands at 381-293 in 21 seasons as a head coach.

Bingman came to Iowa after serving as head coach at Illinois State from 2000-07, where she compiled a 147-98 record. In 2007, Bingman led the Redbirds to their first at-large berth into the NCAA Tournament since 1997 after reaching the championship match of the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament and finished with a 21-12 overall record.

Illinois State produced winning seasons in seven of the eight seasons under Bingman and never finished lower than fifth in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Redbirds also reached at least the semifinals of the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament in six of her eight seasons. Bingman produced 21 all-Missouri Valley Conference selections, including Player of the Year, Libero of the Year and two Freshman of the Year honorees. Two players also garnered all-district and all-region honors.

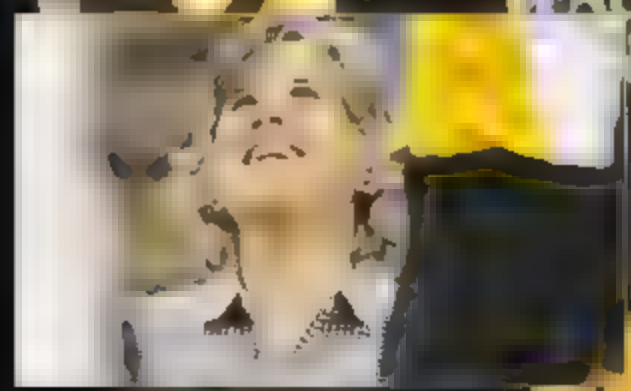

In her first season at Illinois State, Bingman guided the Redbirds to a 20-9 record, including a 15-3 mark in the Missouri Valley Conference. Illinois State finished second in the Missouri Valley and also reached the championship match of the conference tournament, narrowly missing an automatic NCAA Tournament bid after dropping a tough match to nationally-ranked Northern Iowa.

Bingman led Illinois State to a record-setting season in 2004. She guided the team to 22 wins, which was the most since 1990 and broke a school record with 10-consecutive home wins. Two Illinois State players were named first team all-conference and one was an honorable mention ACHA all-District pick.

Bingman helped create a strong home court advantage at Illinois State. Five of the top 20 crowds in Missouri Valley Conference history occurred at Redbird Arena under Bingman, including a league-record 5,641 fans in a match against nationally-ranked Stanford in 2002.

Redbird teams under Dingman were also strong in the classroom. Eleven players were named to the league's scholar-athlete squad in her eight seasons and in 2004, four volleyball student-athletes earned perfect 4.00 grade-point-averages and the team recorded a 2.80 GPA. In 2005, her volleyball team won the academic award for the highest GPA in the athletic department.

Dingman started her head coaching career in 1991 at Auburn, where she led the Tigers to a 22-13 record in her only season at the helm. Her 1991 squad became the first Auburn volleyball team to receive votes in the national poll and Auburn's fourth place finish in the SEC that season marked the highest finish ever for Auburn at the time. Two student-athletes earned all-SEC honors, including Jennifer Klym, who was named the SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year and was an NCAA post-graduate scholarship recipient who earned a 4.0000.

She then moved to Butler in 1992, where she served as head coach for eight seasons. Dingman led the Bulldogs to four 20-win seasons and three postseason tournaments, including an appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 1997 after capturing the Midwestern Collegiate Conference title. She was named MCC Coach of the Year in 1997 after compiling a 26-7 record. Dingman guided her student-athletes to MCC Player of the Year honors, seven to all-region accolades and five to "Top 100 Student" honors at Butler.

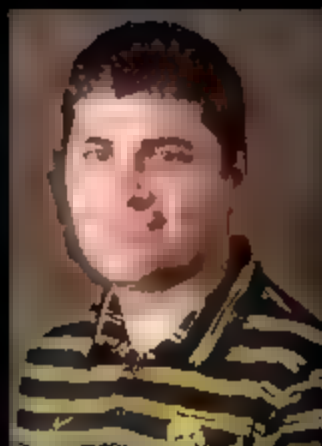

Prior to becoming a head coach, Dingman spent seven seasons as an assistant coach at three Division I programs. After one season at Northern Michigan (1984), she assisted at Texas Tech for three seasons (1985-87). Dingman then spent three seasons at Kentucky (1988-90) and helped the Wildcats to an SEC Championship in 1988 along with three-straight regional finals appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

Dingman has become one of the most respected volleyball coaches in the nation after her work off the court. She was a member of the American Volleyball Coaches Association Board of Directors for seven years and has actively served on many other sport-related committees. She volunteered to support the Special Olympics, the Council of Collegiate Women Athletics Administrators and the Citizens for Sports Equity. She was named an Outstanding Young Woman of America in 1989 and served as a volunteer at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta.

Her playing career included back-to-back Big Ten championships at Purdue (1979-80) before transferring to Northern Michigan, where she served as team captain and most valuable player. She earned her bachelor's degree in health sciences from Northern Michigan in 1984 and attended graduate school at Kentucky (1988-90), completing coursework towards her master's degree in health education.

Along with her career in volleyball, Dingman earned a gold medal in team handball at the 1987 U.S. Olympic Festival and was invited to train with the U.S. national handball team in 1987. She also has completed five marathons.

Dingman is a Monticello, Ind., native where she has been inducted into the Twin Lakes High School Hall of Fame.

JASON ALLEN
ASSISTANT COACH
FIFTH SEASON

Jason Allen is in his fifth season as an assistant coach at Iowa. Allen was promoted to the team's recruiting coordinator following the 2008 season.

The Hawkeyes' recruiting class has earned national honors every year since Allen was promoted to recruiting coordinator. His 2010 and 2011 recruiting classes produced 62-percent of Iowa's starting lineup in 2011, and helped the Hawkeyes claim four non-conference tournament championships over the last two seasons.

In Allen's second year, he helped the Hawkeyes match the program's best start in school history, becoming just the third Hawkeye team to start the season 6-0. Iowa fought its way to five conference wins, raising the two-year total since Allen arrived on campus to 11 Big Ten victories, the best two-year stretch since 2000-01.

In his first season at Iowa, Allen helped the Hawkeyes to 14 wins, which ties the most for an Iowa team since 2000. The Hawkeyes also won six Big Ten matches, the most for an Iowa squad in eight seasons.

In 2010, Allen served as the head coach of the Iowa High Performance Junior National team that advanced to compete in the USAV High Performance National Championships in the Wisconsin Dells.

Allen spent the 2007 season as the TU Head Coach for the Texas Tomadors club program, which is considered one of the top volleyball clubs in the nation. Allen led the current team to a No. 17 national ranking and coached 18 players who received Division I scholarships. Four of Allen's players were also named to the top 120 players in the country list by numerous publications. Allen led his team to a first place finish at the 16 Open Northwest Qualifier. He also served as the recruiting director and webmaster.

Prior to his time with the Texas Tomadors, Allen served as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Sam Houston State University (2004-07). Allen helped lead Sam Houston

State to a second place finish in the Southland Conference (2006) and earned a total of eight student-athletes to all-conference honors. Allen was also responsible for video scouting, recruit evaluating and summer camps.

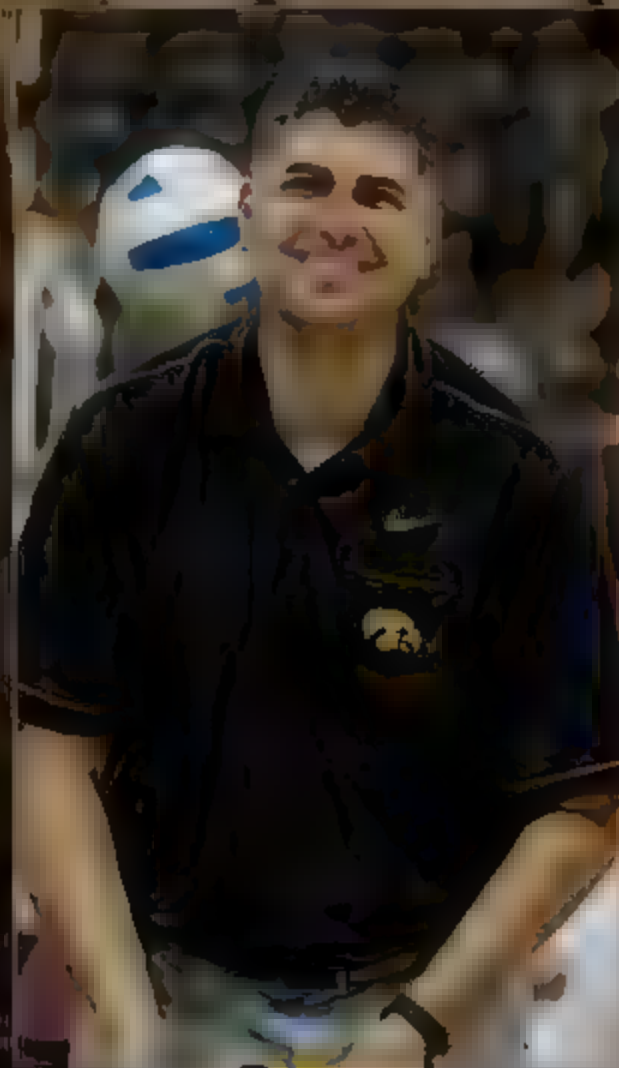

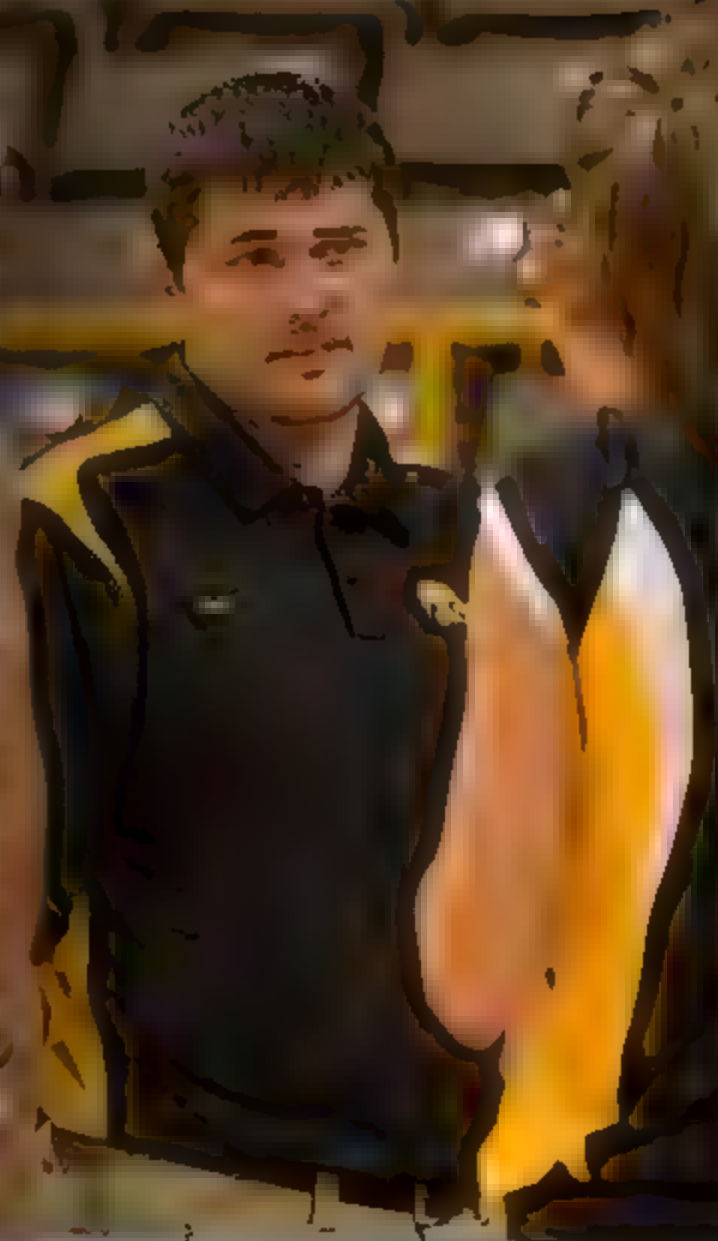

Allen was an assistant coach for the Lone Star Youth High Performance team (both Austin and Houston, TX) from 2005-06. In 2005, his team finished 6th at the USA High Performance Championships and in 2006, the team finished 20th.

Allen began his collegiate coaching career at the Division II level, where he was a graduate assistant at Southwest Minnesota State. In his one season, Southwest Minnesota State was crowned co-champions of the Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference and appeared in the NCAA Division II National Tournament. He also helped coach five all-conference and two all-region student-athletes.

Allen moved on to North Dakota State University, where he was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator (2002-04). North Dakota State won the North Central Conference title in 2003 and qualified for the NCAA Division II National Tournament twice, including a "Sweet 16" appearance in 2003. Allen helped lead four student-athletes to all-region honors and two to all-conference honors in 2003. He also recruited and signed the North Central Region Coach of the Year in 2003.

Allen played one season at Tomball College in Tomball, TX, before transferring to Oklahoma Baptist University. Allen helped Tomball to a ninth place finish at the NFCA Collegiate Volleyball Championships and served as a player/coach for the Oklahoma Baptist club team. Allen was a member of three state tournament teams and was named to the all-tournament team twice. He was also a member of the International Sports Federation volleyball team for two summers, traveling throughout North Africa, playing various national teams and hosting elite junior national teams.

Allen graduated from Oklahoma Baptist (2000) with a degree in kinesiology studies with an emphasis in communications, business administration and psychology. He worked towards his Masters of Education in wellness and fitness performance at Southwest Minnesota State University. Allen also completed work towards his Masters of Exercise Science in sport pedagogy at North Dakota State University.

BEN BOLDT ASSISTANT COACH FOURTH SEASON

Ben Boldt enters his fourth season as an assistant coach at Iowa.

In 2011, Boldt helped a young Hawkeye team capture a pair of non-conference tournament championships en route to a 10-3 non-conference record.

In the summer of 2010, Boldt served as an assistant coach for USA Volleyball, and in the spring of 2011, he was among the staff personnel at the U.S. Women's National Team tryouts.

In his second season in charge of backrow defenders, Boldt helped Bethany Younger become the first Hawkeyes freshman in five years to lead the team in digs.

In his first season with the Hawkeyes, Boldt helped lead the team to six straight wins to start the season, a mark that matched the best program start in school history. He was instrumental in leading a Hawkeye defense that ranked third in the Big Ten in digs per game. Boldt also coached first-year libero Christina Melzer, who ranked second in the conference in digs per game and became Iowa's first Big Ten Player of the Week since 2006.

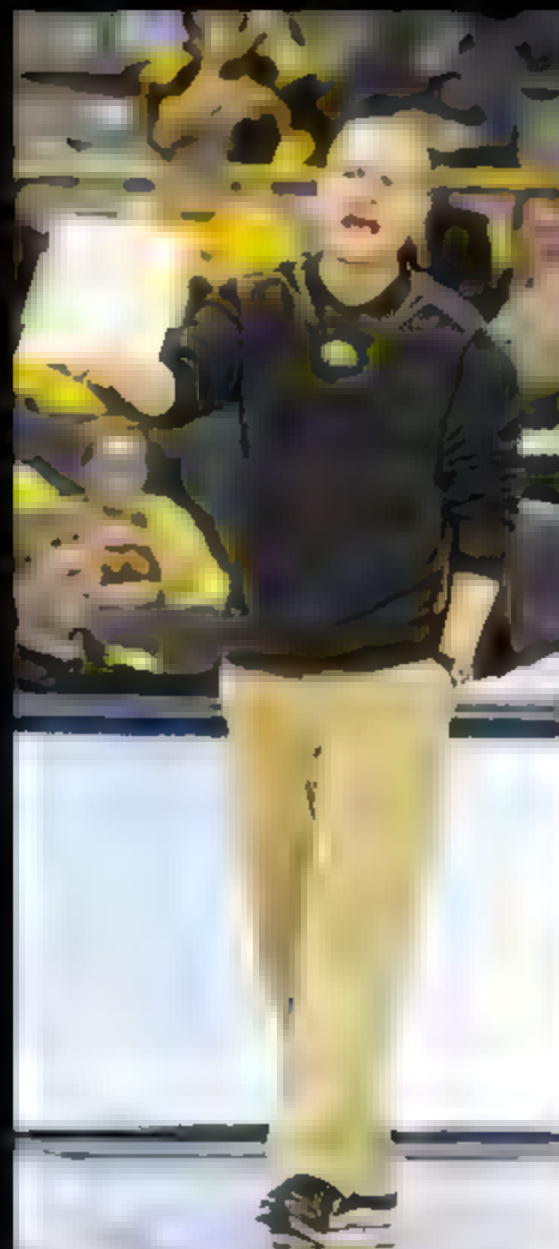

Boldt, a native of Hickman, NE, comes to Iowa after serving two years as an assistant coach at Alabama. In his first season, Boldt helped the Crimson Tide to its third-straight NCAA Tournament berth, and its third overall NCAA Tournament appearance in school history. Boldt also coached middle blocker Crystal Hudson to All-America honors, and helped bring in Alabama's first top 30 recruiting class.

Boldt was honored by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) in the spring of 2009 when he was given the "Thirty Under 30 Award." The "Thirty Under 30 Award" was established so the volleyball community could spotlight up-and-coming professionals in the sport at all levels of the game, including high school and all NCAA divisions.

Boldt served as a staff assistant for five seasons at the University of Nebraska while pursuing his degree, prior to joining the Alabama staff. While at Nebraska, Boldt was a part of one of the most successful programs in NCAA history. Nebraska won five Big 12 championships and advanced to the National Semifinals three times. In his final season at Nebraska, the Cornhuskers finished 33-1 and were crowned NCAA champions after knocking off Stanford in the title game. While at Nebraska, Boldt served as a coach for USA Volleyball at numerous levels. He was a USA Youth National Team coach in 2005-06, and was also a part of the A2 team in 2004.

Boldt also has experience coaching at the club level. He has served as head coach for the Iowa Rockets Club for the past three years. He was also a head coach for both the Challenger Volleyball Club from 2000-01 and the Nebraska Juniors from 2005-06.

Boldt is married to current Hawkeye Director of Volleyball Operations Angie Boldt.

ANGIE BOLDT
DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS
FIFTH SEASON

Angie Boldt is in her fifth season as Director of Volleyball Operations at the University of Iowa.

Her responsibilities include team travel logistics and managing day-to-day operations within the volleyball program. She also helps coordinate home matches, tournaments, alumni events, team receptions and banquets.

Boldt comes to Iowa after serving as a graduate assistant with volleyball operations at the University of Alabama from 2006-08. She helped coordinate team travel, home matches and tournaments, team receptions and banquets and both youth development and coaches clinics. Boldt also helped oversee day-to-day operations for the volleyball office, including scheduling, recruiting and budget issues.

Prior to her stint at Alabama, Boldt was a student worker for volleyball operations at the University of Nebraska from 2003-06. During her time, the Cornhuskers were a perennial top-five program and won the 2006 NCAA national championship.

Boldt has extensive coaching experience at the club level. She served as both an assistant and co-head coach for the South Central Volleyball Club in St. Paul, NE, from 2003-06. Boldt also taught private lessons at the Nebraska Volleyball Academy in Lincoln, NE, in 2006 and served as both an assistant and co-head coach for the Club Crimson Volleyball Club in Tuscaloosa, AL. She currently serves as a coach for the Iowa Rockets Volleyball Club, based in eastern Iowa.

The St. Paul, NE, native graduated from Nebraska in 2006 with a degree in education and human sciences, with endorsements in natural sciences and coaching. She received her masters in general studies in human environmental sciences, with an emphasis in sport management, from Alabama in the spring of 2008.

Boldt is married to Iowa volleyball assistant coach Ben Boldt.

GARY BARTA ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Now in his seventh year as director of athletics at the University of Iowa and his 26th year in athletic administration, Gary Barta manages an athletics program that continues to gain momentum in two key areas — on the playing field and in the classroom — while enhancing the infrastructure that will serve as the foundation for future successes.

Academically, the UI's federal graduation rate of 74 percent (for student-athletes who enrolled in 2004-05) ties the best ever posted by UI athletics. That mark was a 13-point increase over the previous year and was nine points above the national average; UI student-athletes will establish another record when the latest figures are released in October. Last fall, the NCAA confirmed that all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the Academic Progress Rate (APR) benchmark for the fourth straight year.

The figures released last fall, Iowa's score of 86 percent in the NCAA's "Graduation Success Rate" or GSR, also matched a school record. Five different women's teams at the UI posted perfect 100 GSR scores. Iowa's GSR in football (83), men's (73) and women's (100) basketball all ranked above the national average for their respective sports.

Athletically, Hawkeye teams enjoyed another outstanding year in 2011-12. A significant number of Iowa's 24 programs reached postseason play. The Iowa football team reached bowl eligibility for the 11th straight season and competing in a bowl game for the fourth straight year and 10th time in the last 11 seasons. The women's basketball program participated in the NCAA Tournament for a fifth straight season and men's basketball returned to postseason competition under second-year coach Fran McCaffery, recording an 84-75 win over Dayton in front of 13,190 go-energized fans in Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

The Hawkeye wrestling program, led by national champion Matt McBurnough, made another run at a national title before placing third. The men's golf team placed 22nd nationally in its third appearance in the NCAA Championships in the last four seasons. Additionally, the UI men's track and field placed 23rd in the nation and the UI's men's swimming and diving program placed 26th at its national championship.

Iowa's field hockey team advanced to the NCAA Tournament and the Hawkeye softball team placed second in the Big Ten. Between the men's and women's track and field teams, 34 student-athletes competed at the NCAA Championships and 14 members of the UI men's and women's swimming and diving teams qualified for the Olympic Trials.

And, while the UI athletics department continues to earn high marks in integrity, academic excellence, and athletic performances, Barta also continues to oversee critical improvements and additions to the facilities used by the UI's talented student-athletes while maintaining a balanced and ever-growing operations budget that continues to be self-sustaining.

In addition to the competitive success the Hawkeyes recorded in 2011-12, the UI once again experienced tremendous success at the turnstiles. Iowa has sold every seat in historic Kinnick Stadium in each of the past two seasons, ranking 21st in national attendance both years. The UI will enter the 2012 home football season with all seven home games sold out once again and boasts waiting lists for not only season tickets, but also the premium seating options available inside the Paul W. Brechler Press Box.

Attendance at home games of the UI's men's basketball team has climbed more than 30 percent the last two seasons. Iowa's attendance of 13,190 for a first round NIT game in Carver-Hawkeye Arena ranked as the highest attended game of the 2012 tournament.

The UI wrestling team set another national attendance record by averaging 9,014 fans per home meet in 2011-12, leading the nation in attendance for the sixth straight year. The economic impact of the 2012 U.S. Olympic Wrestling Team Trials, hosted by the UI in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, exceeded $5 million, according to survey results released by the Iowa City/Corville Area Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Attendance at home games of the UI's women's basketball games also remained strong as the program once again ranked among national leaders in 2011-12. The UI also registered increases in attendance at home volleyball, soccer, field hockey, women's gymnastics, men's gymnastics, softball and baseball events.

Since 2006, the Hawkeyes have invested more than $150 million in new and renovated athletic facilities. Upgrades include the restoration of historic Kinnick Stadium and Carver-Hawkeye Arena, as well as a new state-of-the-art aquatics center, a boathouse facility for the UI rowing program and an indoor and outdoor tennis complex. Another $60 million worth of improvements are underway in the form of the two phase football training center project and an indoor golf performance facility.

In late summer 2011, the UI completed a $47 million revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena. That project included the construction of a practice facility for men's and women's basketball and volleyball, a 10,000-square-foot strength training and cardiovascular center, and an expansion to the Dan Gable Wrestling Complex, in addition to new locker room and support facilities for men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball programs, and office space for the majority of Iowa administrative and coaching staffs.

The Carver project included the installation of a statue of Gable at the facility's main entrance. That project was completed in time for the thousands of fans of the sport of wrestling to enjoy while attending the 2012 USA Wrestling Olympic Team Trials. Phase I of a two-phase project for the UI football program was completed in August, 2012. Phase I includes the new indoor practice facility for Coach Mark Ferruzzi's program that has competed on 10 bowl games over the past 11 seasons. Phase II includes construction of the new Iowa Football Operations Center, which will include new team locker rooms, team meeting rooms, athletic medical training space, video operations, and coaches offices and meeting rooms. Funded entirely through private support and revenue generated by the UI Athletics Department, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football. It will be constructed adjacent to the Ron and Margaret Kenyon Outdoor Practice Facility, immediately west of Kinnick Stadium and will be connected to the new indoor practice facility.

The 2010-11 season marked the first for the men's and women's swimming and diving teams in the UI's $49 million Campus Recreation and Wellness Center. The Hawkeyes hosted the 2012 Big Ten Championships and the UI men's squad responded by earning its highest Big Ten finish in 15 seasons.

Another of the latest additions to the facilities available to the UI's student-athletes is the Varsity Golf Complex practice facility for the men's and women's golf programs. Located at the southern edge of the UI's award-winning Finkbine Golf Course, the facility is expected to be completed for use this winter. It will provide the Hawkeyes a state-of-the-art facility that offers the opportunity for year-round training and practice.

Barta's involvement in the UI campus community extends beyond intercollegiate athletics. He is a member of the President's Cabinet, comprised of vice presidents and other campus leaders, that provide counsel to UI President Sally Mason. That group was instrumental in the UI's response to record-setting flooding that beseged the campus and the Iowa City and Carahille community in June 2008.

Barta also represents the UI and the Hawkeyes at the conference and national level. During his first six years at the UI, he has participated in the creation and implementation of the Big Ten Network, the expansion of the Big Ten Conference and realignment of athletics conferences nationally, and the Big Ten's postseason bowl game agreements that were successfully implemented in 2010.

Nationally, Barta remains active in the Division IA Athletics Directors Association, the National Association of College Directors of Athletics, and currently serves on the NCAA Football Committee Board of Directors.

Barta often suggests to his staff that "Hope is not a strategy," which is why he is currently overseeing a comprehensive review of the strategic plan for the UI Athletics Department and has worked with the UI's leadership on a long-term financial plan.

Another favorite saying of his is, "Vision without resources is irrelevant." Over the course of his career he has been directly involved in raising hundreds of millions of dollars in support of intercollegiate athletics. This has remained a primary focus during his tenure at Iowa, where private support for the Hawkeyes continues to flourish despite a challenging economy.

Under Barta's leadership — and thanks to a talented athletics development staff — the UI has seen year-over-year improvement in annual giving in spite of the difficult economic environment. In addition, under Barta's direction, the UI generated more than $20 million of philanthropic and corporate sponsorship support for the revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena and has already surpassed that level of support for the current football projects.

The UI also generated the $2 million in private support necessary to fully fund the Hawkeyes' new practice facility for its men's and women's golf programs. As the director of athletics at the University of Wyoming for three years, seven different UW coaches were named Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He also spearheaded a fund-raising effort that netted the Cowboy athletics program $11 million in private support and $11 million in matching state fund.

As the senior associate athletics director at the University of Washington, he directed the "Campaign for the Student-Athlete," was a participant in the design, construction and/or renovation of several UW athletics facilities, including Bank of America Arena and the Pugetson Indoor Practice Facility. In addition to almost doubling the amount of annual private support received by UW, Barta also managed the department's external relations division, a task that included corporate sponsorship and radio contracts.

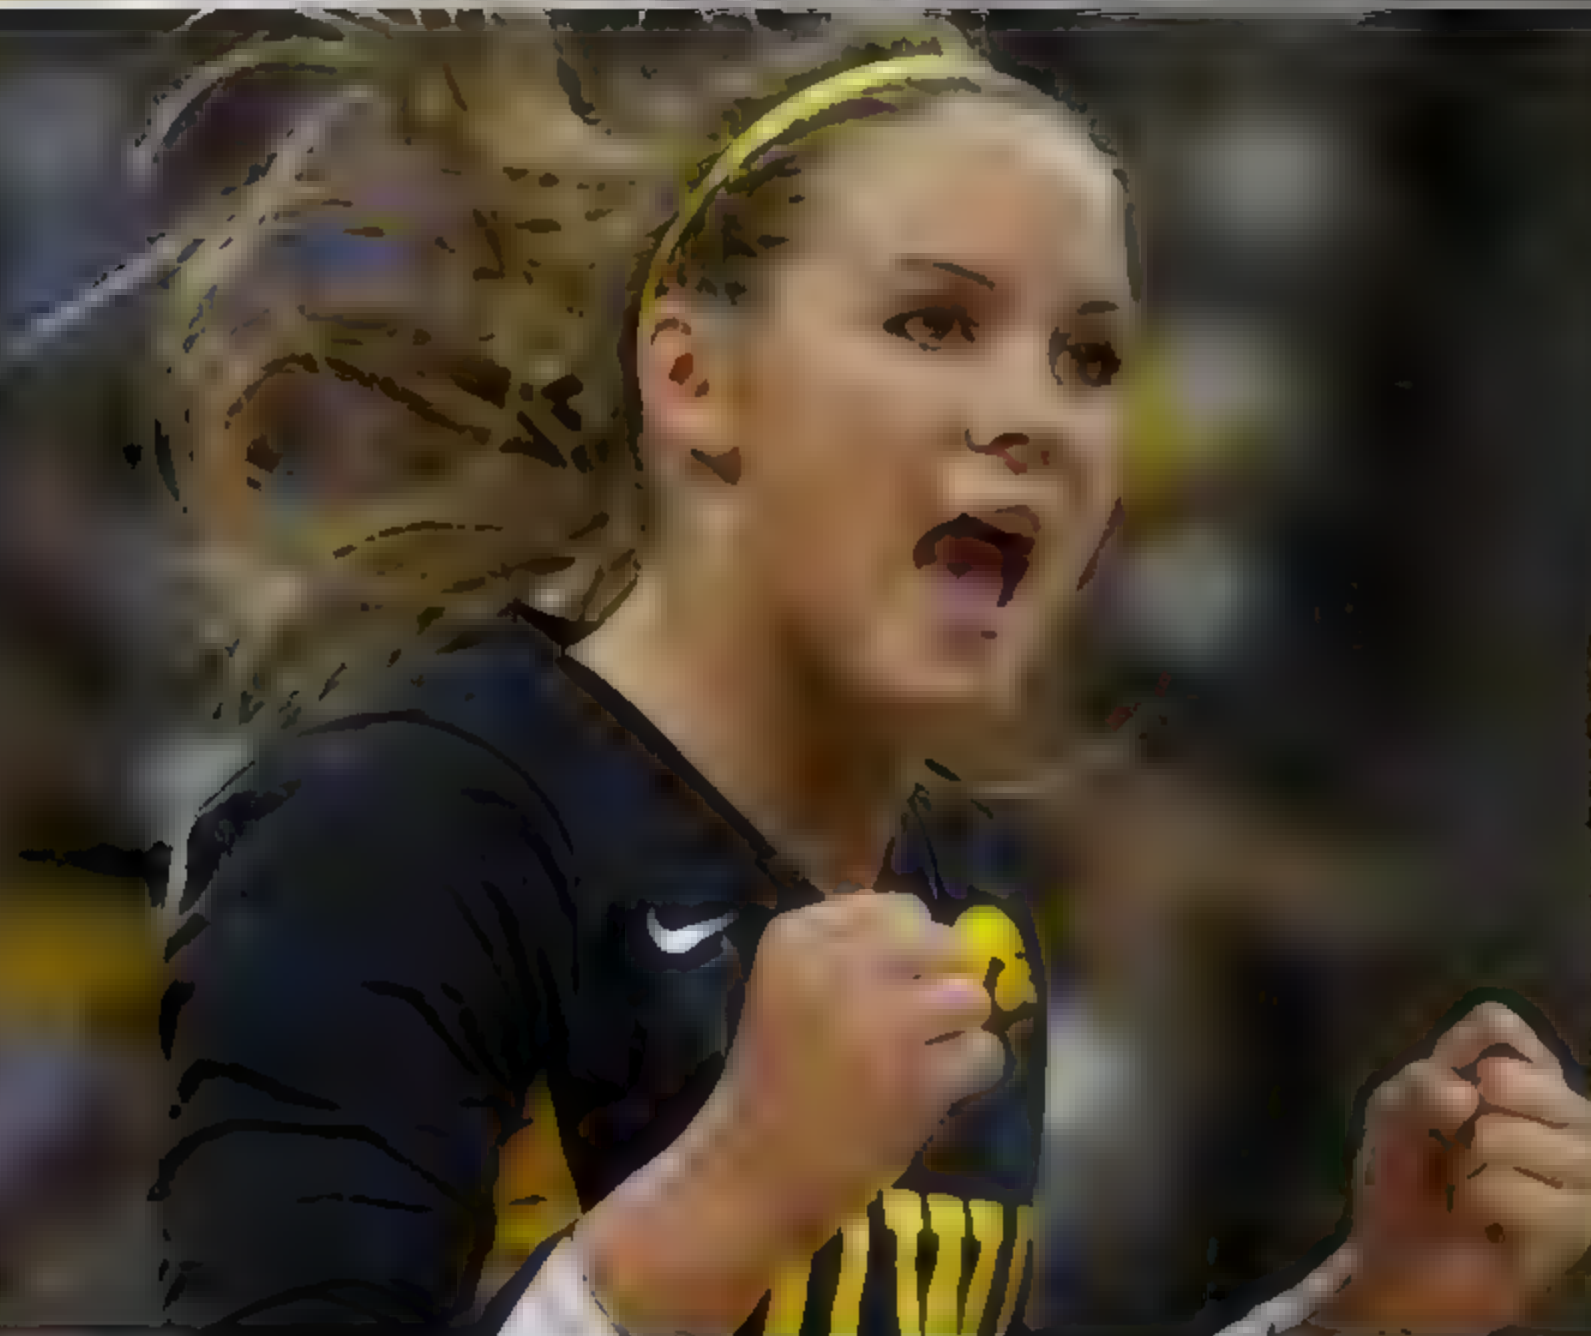

His responsibilities at Washington expanded over time to include hiring or creating administrative staff, and the day-to-day oversight of several Huskie sport teams. The roots of his development experience extend to his first two positions: director of external development and external relations at the University of Northern Iowa and director of development at his alma mater, North Dakota State University.

Barta earned a Bachelor of Science degree in mass communication and broadcast journalism from NDSU in 1987. He was an option quarterback for Bison football squads that won the Division II NCAA National Championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986.

Barta, and his wife, Corrie, have a son, Luke (14) and a daughter, Madison (12). Barta was born Sept. 4, 1963, in Minneapolis.

Playing volleyball at the University of Iowa not only allows student-athletes the opportunity to compete in the nationally recognized Big Ten Conference. It also provides a chance to reach the next level of competition and expose your talents internationally.

In 2011, Rachael Bedell and Bethany Yeager represented the University of Iowa and the United States while competing for Team USA. Bedell helped lead USA Volleyball Women's Junior A2-Europe Program to the Gold medal at the European Global Challenge.

Yeager reached the semifinals and captured a bronze medal while competing for USA Volleyball Women's Junior Program.

Iowa assistant coach Ben Boldt has also served time as an assistant coach for USA Volleyball and helped lead the Women's Junior A2 Program through the USA Volleyball High Performance Championships in 2008.

"I chose the University of Iowa because of its superior education, competitive athletic conference, and its prime location. First, Iowa has a prestigious pharmacy school that will lead me to an intriguing and successful career. Second, the Big Ten conference guarantees that I will be playing against some of the best competition in the nation. And finally, Iowa is relatively close, but not too close, to my friends, family, and home in Michigan. Aside from Iowa City's charming atmosphere and the incredibly kind people here—the education, competition, and location make the University of Iowa the perfect school for me."

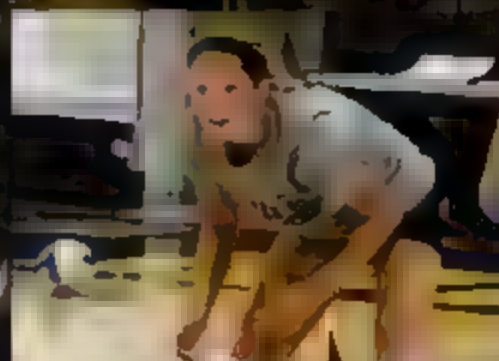

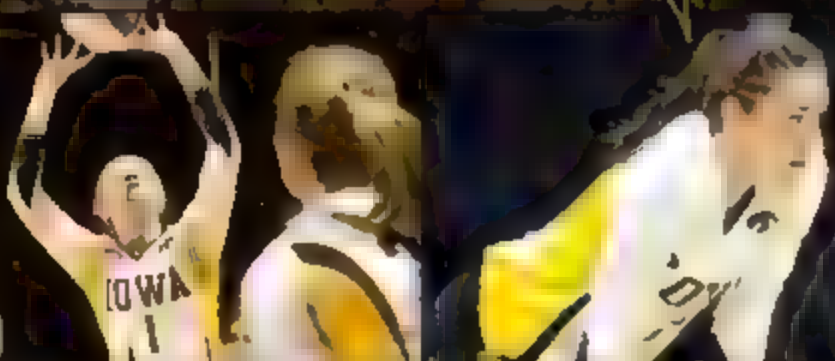

ALEX LOVELL - Sophomore - Leonard, Mich.

"I chose Iowa because the campus and academic programs that the University has to offer are far greater than other schools I visited. Being in the Big Ten Conference, volleyball is always very competitive and intense, so I loved that about Iowa as well. After meeting the great coaching staff, seeing what Big Ten volleyball was all about, and learning more about the school, I knew Iowa was the school for me. The coaching staff, players, and academic coordinators really made feel at home here and I can't imagine being anywhere else!"

ALLISON STRAMMANN - Senior - Cary, Ill.

"I chose to attend the University of Iowa because it was an incredible opportunity for me to receive a high level education while getting to play the game that I love. I jumped at the chance to play volleyball in the Big Ten conference and I have loved playing against some of the best teams in the nation. When I first visited, I fell in love with the campus and I knew it was where God wanted me to pursue my academic and athletic career. My coaches are so passionate about the game and I love playing for them. My teammates are incredible and I enjoy competing with them. My coaches and my teammates sealed the deal for me to come to the University of Iowa. I love being a Hawkeye!"

BETHANY YEAGER - Junior - Brenham, Texas

"I chose Iowa because it is a Big Ten school with some of the best competition in the nation. Also, it's perfect distance from home and offers the academic and social aspects I searched for. Iowa's coaching staff and players made a huge impact on my decision. Their kindness and passion for volleyball made the choice easy."

MIKKI DAILEY - Junior - Franklin, Wis.

"I chose the University of Iowa for many reasons; the first was the chance to play volleyball with and against some of the most elite players in the nation. Also, it was something completely different from home so I wanted to experience how life in the Midwest would be. The people in Iowa are very welcoming and passionate about their state which impacted my decision as well."

CHARIE THOMPSON - Junior - Hurst, Texas

"I have wanted to be a Hawkeye for as long as I can remember. Having been born and raised in Iowa City, the University of Iowa is like a second home to me. Both of my parents are alumni and my mom played volleyball here. I am really close to my family so it is very special to be able to carry on that tradition with a sport I love! Plus, the Big Ten is the nation's top volleyball conference, so it will be amazing to have the opportunity to compete against the top teams in the country. Iowa has been making a lot of progress under Sharon Singman so it is an exciting time to be a part of this program."

ALLI O'DEEN - Redshirt Freshman - Iowa City, Iowa

RADIO - INTERNET BROADCASTS

Hawkeye volleyball fans across the country unable to attend the excitement at Carver-Hawkeye Arena can follow the Hawkeyes via the world wide web on Hawkeye All-Access, the audio/video webstream provided by hawkeyesports.com. Fans in the Iowa City area can hear live broadcast of Iowa's home and away matches on AM-800 KXIC. Former Hawkeye Daily/Iowan beat reporter Ian Martin calls the play-by-play for the Hawkeyes.

TELEVISION

With the launch of the Big Ten Network, the Big Ten is the only conference in the country that has its own national network devoted to Big Ten athletics programming. NCAA volleyball fans can follow the Hawkeyes and their Big Ten cohorts on the network in stunning hi-definition. Fans can also watch a number of games, including home and away events, on Hawkeye All-Access and at BTM.com.

HAWKEYESPORTS.COM

Media and fans can obtain a wealth of up-to-date information about the Hawkeyes on the official web site of the University of Iowa -- hawkeyesports.com. Live stats (gametracker), box scores, play-by-play, photo galleries, coach and bio information, video, podcasts and more can be found on the web site. The volleyball team also has its own facebook site and twitter address.

Furthermore, hawkeyesports.com has a fresh look after the site was re-designed and re-launched in October 2010. The new and improved site has enhanced graphics, is easier to navigate, and has more content and video/audio for the diehard Hawkeye fan.

BTN

BIG TEN

A joint venture between the Big Ten Conference and Fox Networks, BTN is the first internationally distributed network dedicated to covering one of the premier collegiate conferences in the country. With more than 800 events, all in HD, the 24/7 network is the ultimate destination for Big Ten fans and alumni across the country, allowing them to see their favorite teams, regardless of where they live.

Events include football, men's and women's basketball games; dozens of Big Ten Championship events; studio shows; coaches' shows; and classic games. The network televises and streams more Olympic sporting events and women's sports than has ever been aired on any other network.

Original programming highlights activities and accomplishments of some of the nation's finest universities. The groundbreaking Student U initiative provides real-world experience for students interested in careers in sports television. The network is available to more than 80 million homes across the United States and Canada, and currently has agreements with more than 300 affiliates, including AT&T U-Verse, Atlantic Broadband, Cablevision, Charter, Comcast, Cox, DirecTV, ESPN Network, Insight, Mediacom, Rogers Cable (Canada), Shaw Cable and Shaw Direct (Canada), Time Warner Cable and Verizon FiOS. IOWA

The University of Iowa volleyball team takes tremendous pride and enjoyment in its charity and community service activities.

Since Karen Hargrave took over the program in 2008, the Hawkeyes have been very active in the Iowa City Community. Iowa players have been actively involved in helping the Iowa Children's Museum, University of Iowa Dance Marathon, the Ronald McDonald House and the University of Iowa Children's Hospital.

The following is a list of just some of the community service activities the Hawkeye volleyball team has participated in throughout the Iowa City community.

INDIVIDUAL SPORTS CAMPS

The University of Iowa Individual Volleyball Sports Camp is available for players of all skill levels in grades 5-12. The sports camp provides an opportunity for girls to experience the excitement surrounding Iowa Volleyball. The coaching staff works with all athletes, from beginners to elite level volleyball players, in a competitive environment. Coach Dingman and the Iowa coaching staff take pride in assisting all players as they take their skills to the next level.

LITTLE SPIKERS

The volleyball program also hosts the annual "Little Spikers" clinic for children grades K-8. Participants are able to join current Hawkeye players and staff and learn to "Play like the Hawks" by participating in basic volleyball activities using a special "Lite" volleyball and a lower net.

The Hawkeye volleyball camps provide an excellent opportunity for Hawkeye players and fans to interact and learn the game of volleyball while competing in a fun, instructional and fan-friendly environment.

IOWA CONTINUES TO BUILD FOR SUCCESS

The UI Department of Athletics is under the direction of Gary Barta and is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation. Once again, the Hawkeyes enjoyed success both athletically and academically in 2011-12.

Academically, the UI's federal graduation rate of 74 percent (for student-athletes who enrolled in 2004-05) was the best ever posted by UI athletics. That mark was a 13-point increase over the previous year and was nine points above the national average; UI student-athletes will establish another record when the latest figures are released in October. Last fall, the NCAA confirmed that all 24 of Iowa's teams exceeded the Academic Progress Rate (APR) benchmark for the fourth straight year.

Athletically, Hawkeye teams enjoyed another outstanding year in 2011-12. A significant number of Iowa's 24 programs reached postseason play. The Iowa football team reached bowl eligibility for the 11th straight season and competed in a bowl game for the fourth straight year and 10th time in the last 11 seasons. The women's basketball program participated in the NCAA Tournament for a fifth straight season and men's basketball returned to postseason competition under second-year coach Fran McCaffery.

In late summer 2011, the UI completed a $47 million revitalization of Carver-Hawkeye Arena. That project included the construction of a practice facility for men's and women's basketball and volleyball, a 10,000-square-foot strength training and cardiovascular center, and an expansion to the Dan Gable Wrestling Complex, in addition to new locker room and support facilities for men's and women's basketball, wrestling and volleyball programs, and office space for the majority of Iowa administrative and coaching staffs.

Phase I of a two-phase project for the UI football program was completed in August, 2012. Phase I includes the new indoor practice facility for Coach Kirk Ferentz' program that has competed on 10 bowl games over the past 11 seasons. Phase II includes construction of the new Iowa Football Operations Center, which will include new team locker rooms, team meeting rooms, athletic medical training space, video operations, and coaches offices and meeting rooms. Funded entirely through private support and revenue generated by the UI Athletics Department, the project is an important next phase of the master facilities plan for Hawkeye football.

IOWA WRESTLING

The Hawkeye wrestling team — the national attendance leader in each of the last six seasons — continued its dominance on the mat, finishing third at the NCAA Championships. Six Hawkeyes earned All-America accolades in 2012, including two-time national champion Matt McDermott. Iowa has claimed 23 national championships and 34 Big Ten titles in its 102-year history.

IOWA FOOTBALL

Iowa football continued its stellar play, finishing in the upper division of the Big Ten for the 16th time in the last 11 years. The Hawkeyes reached bowl eligibility for the 11th straight season and competed in the postseason for the fourth straight year.

IOWA WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The women's basketball team won its final eight games of the regular season to finish tied for second in the Big Ten and earn an at-large bid into the NCAA Tournament. Head Coach Lisa Bluder has now led Iowa to five-straight NCAA Tournament appearances.

IOWA MEN'S TRACK AND FIELD

The men's track and field team recorded a pair of top 25 finishes at the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships. The Hawkeyes crowned four Big Ten champions and nine All-Americans, including Erik Sowinski, who placed second in the 800 meters at the NCAA Championships.

IOWA MEN'S GOLF

Head coach Mark Mondis led the Hawkeyes to their third NCAA Championships appearance in the last four years. Iowa collected another top-25 national finish and multiple individuals earned honors throughout the season.

IOWA MEN'S BASKETBALL

Second-year head coach Fran McCaffery led the Hawkeyes to 18 wins and an NIT bid a year ago. Iowa improved by seven wins from 2011 to 2012, as McCaffery continued to demonstrate his ability to rebuild programs and maximize the fan base — Iowa's attendance increased for the second straight year and ranked No. 31 nationally.

IOWA SWIMMING AND DIVING

The Iowa men's swimming and diving team posted its best finish in 17 years, placing fifth in the Big Ten and 26th at the NCAA Championships. The Hawkeye won a pair of Big Ten relay titles and five student-athletes went on to garner honorable mention All-America accolades. On the women's team, freshman Becky Staughton became the first UI swimmer to earn Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors, and she was the first Hawkeye women's swimmer to earn All-America honors since 2005.

Building on a rich tradition of excellence and innovation, the University of Iowa is educating more than 30,000 students annually, preparing them for success immediately following graduation, as well as continued achievements throughout their lives.

The University of Iowa offers more than 100 areas of undergraduate and graduate study, including seven professional degree programs, through its 11 colleges: the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and Public Health, and the Graduate College. The University also provides off-campus and distance learning opportunities through its division of Continuing Education.

Long recognized as one of the nation's leading centers for the arts, mathematics, space physics, hydraulics, basic health and science communication studies, the University of Iowa is also a leader in emerging fields in informatics, nanoscience, simulation and virtual reality.

The University has maintained its tradition as an innovator in research and work in speech pathology, science and medicine. The University is nationally recognized for being home of one of the nation's largest university-owned hospitals.

Diversity at the University of Iowa

The University of Iowa has worked hard to assure that students of all races, creeds, and backgrounds are represented in the student body. In the past five years, Iowa has moved aggressively towards its goal of creating communities of African American, Hispanic/Latino (a), Asian American, and Native American students, and making the University a stimulating, welcoming place.

The Center for Diversity and Enrichment is a coordinated university-wide resource for meeting and maintaining this campus diversity.

and providing opportunities for all University students interested in other cultures. Scholarships, fellowships, and support programs help to make this possible. International Programs brings together scholars from around the world and UI students looking to expand their perspectives by studying abroad or exploring global issues on campus. International students at the University of Iowa represent more than 100 countries.

CONSIDER THE COMMUNITY

Some universities offer the large city atmosphere. Others offer the college town experience. The University of Iowa is uniquely situated to offer student athletes the very best of both of these different worlds.

Once the state capital, Iowa City is considered one of the truly great college towns in America. The city swells with excitement on game day when nearly 16,000 Hawkeye fans from across the state and Midwest converge on Carver-Hawkeye Arena to cheer the Hawkeyes to another victory.

Iowa City's downtown area is alive and thriving. Restaurants, shops and sidewalk cafes face onto pedestrian malls full of people watchers, street entertainers and food vendors.

Attractive in size and friendliness, Iowa City is big in the sense that it offers all the advantages and conveniences of much larger metropolitan areas like summer and permanent employment opportunities, live entertainment and concerts, fine dining and shopping, industry and commerce.

Iowa City is located in the heart of eastern Iowa, within easy driving distance of several major Midwestern cities including the state capital, Des Moines, as well as Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Milwaukee.

"Iowa City is unlike any other place in the state, both because of its regional beauty and because of its independent, scrappy spirit."

"There's nothing like feeling the crisp air as one tours the Big Ten campus, just as there's no other feeling like walking the shores along Lake MacBride, north of town. This is an ideal location for a weekend trip filled with sights, sounds, shopping and plenty of activities on any given weekend."

"If there is a star in Iowa, Iowa City is it."

A CAMPUS ON THE MOVE

The University of Iowa campus caters to pedestrians and bicyclists; it's compact enough to cross in a 20-minute walk. A free ride on a campus bus can cut that time in half. Entertainment on campus and in Iowa City is geared toward student budgets, with many events offered at no charge. The University of Iowa offers more than 400 student organizations, extensive recreation facilities, 50 fraternities and sororities, and a broad schedule of arts performances, lectures, cultural celebrations and club sports and intramural athletic contests to go along with the intercollegiate competition within the Big Ten Conference.

STUDENT ORGANIZED NIGHT LIFE

Iowa's campus is set right in the city's downtown area, where you'll find dance clubs, movies, coffeehouses, and restaurants to suit every taste. Live music can be found any night of the week in clubs and restaurants, even outside on warm evenings on the downtown pedestrian mall. Iowa City businesses are convenient and geared toward student tastes and needs.

CONSIDER THE OPPORTUNITY FOR A QUALITY EDUCATION

A quality education is one of the highest priorities at the University of Iowa. Just over 90 percent of Johnson County residents have graduated from high school, and in Iowa City nearly half of all residents have earned bachelor's degrees. In fact, census statistics indicate Johnson County is the 10th "smartest" county in the nation based on percentage of residents holding bachelor's degrees.

The University of Iowa represents a strong presence in the community while enhancing the quality of life in Iowa City.

Your aspiration may be a career in medicine, law or education. Regardless of the specific career field, it's important to identify the college baseball program that places a high priority on academics and allows you to take full advantage of the tremendous educational opportunities available.

At the University of Iowa, student-athletes learn quickly that academic success is the highest priority.

ATHLETICS AND ACADEMICS

At The University of Iowa, a strong relationship has been developed between athletics and academics, where coaches and athletes work hand-in-hand with academic deans and professors, assuring the student-athlete the best possible opportunities to excel in the classroom and in athletics.

From the first visit for any prospective student-athlete, to the completion of their academic and athletic career at Iowa, academic personnel play a large role in the career of Hawkeye student-athletes. Beginning with the on-campus visits, student-athletes are introduced to professors in their selected field of study, and are able to establish a relationship and develop an understanding of the academic setting in which they will be involved.

THE RUSSELL AND ANN GERDIN ATHLETIC LEARNING CENTER

The University of Iowa Russell and Ann Gerdin Athletic Learning Center opened in the fall of 2003. The Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000-square foot facility, which provides one all-purpose area for the academic pursuits for Iowa's male and female student-athletes. The facility is centrally located on the UI campus for easy access by all student-athletes and staff.

The Learning Center features an auditorium, two classrooms, study lounges for freshmen and upper-class student-athletes, a computer lab, a teaching lab, the athletic library, office space for Iowa's Academic Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

When a student-athlete considers her future, she should consider prospects beyond volleyball. She should consider where she wants to be five, ten, fifteen years from today, and the best source of action for getting there. Also, she should decide early on to commit to meaningful and enjoyable challenges and activities.

Without a doubt, the men and women listed here took time to consider their future and the ways to get there. These former University of Iowa undergraduates have gone on to become leaders in their chosen fields. They also pursued their academic studies as strongly as they pursued their careers.

THE HAWKEYE NICKNAME

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago. The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel The Last of the Mohicans written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Flour of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval. Herky The Hawkeye

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye was hatched. The creator was Richard Spenser III, instructor of Journalism at Iowa.

The Insipid Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.
